

Care and support at home in Wales

A summary of the five-year strategic plan 2017-2022

Why do we need a plan?

People are living longer and with more complex needs

People, carers and communities are important

People want good quality, flexible care and support at home

Resources are limited – we need to use them wisely

Vision

People in Wales work together to improve well-being through care and support at home

Care and support at home will:

- Help people with the things that matter to them
- Make sure the workforce has the right skills, knowledge and values
- Value the workforce and the contribution they make
- Recognise the importance of carers and give them the support they need
- Make people and their carers equal partners in decisions
- Use resources wisely to help people live independently and well
- Be built around the community
- Support people to maintain family and community relationships
- Base plans on research and real-life evidence
- Support services to be flexible, reliable and able to work together
