Co-production expert class presentation

Co-production is one of the main principles of the Social Services and Well-being (Wales) Act 2014. It means working with and involving individuals, their family, friends and carers to make sure their care and support is the best it can be.

This presentation formed the basis of the co-production in health and social care expert classes that were designed and delivered by Ruth Dineen and Noreen Blanluet, co-founders of Co-production Wales.
